UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Barre. No Barre resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills, can remain unconvinced by this best-tested testimony.

Mrs. N. M. Nelson, 20 Merchant street, Barre, says: "A severe attack of grip left my kidneys in a weakened condition. The slightest housework tired me, and after I was on my feet for any great time, sharp pains across my back compelled me to stop and rest. Other complications came on, and my kidneys began to act unnaturally. I paid out over a hundred dollars seeking relief but got none. I became discouraged until someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They stopped the trouble in a short time and rid me of the dangerous attack." (Statement given November 10, 1905.)

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mrs. Nelson said: "I still use Doan's now and then and find them as excellent as when I first recommended them."

TUNBRIDGE

Edward Folsom, in Navy, in Good Health and Pleased with Choice.

Edward S. Folsom, a Tunbridge boy who is in the navy and located somewhere in European waters, writes thus to his mother, Mrs. Frank Folsom, of Tunbridge:

U. S. S. Delaware, Dec. 17, 1917.

Dear Mother: I am going to try to drop you a few lines now, although I do not know when it will reach you. Perhaps I have neglected too long, but things have not been much in my favor for writing before. Maybe you will think my penmanship very bad as it is. We are well and feeling fine and eager for the luck that may come our way. It is mostly darkness here, only about one-third daylight and then the sun does not shine much. It is the time of the year when the fog hangs low.

I am wondering how you came out with your Thanksgiving dinner. We had turkey with several fixings. Well, we all enjoyed it. You may think of me eating dinner when you are enjoying your breakfast or something like that. Have you heard from Leon lately? I should like to hear from him now, but I little think I shall.

How are Clarence's folks. I suppose Pa is all right. He will get the sleigh at Mr. Heath's won't he? I don't want you or anyone else to think of my suffering with the cold for my bag is chock full now. I would have to call on Santa's mouse to put in just one thing more. I could not keep them if I had more clothes.

I am all right in every way, sickness or by getting hurt, so why worry? Was not even sick, as many were on the way over. Really, I think I gave it good thought when I chose the navy and lay it to a man liking it if he is contented.

Is Thelma at home? Well, I shall have to close and write another letter. You must write me a long letter, telling me all the news. I will write when I can. With love for all. Edward.

STAKES ALL ON U-BOATS.

Germany Hopes to Starve Out All Her Allies Now.

London, Jan. 12.—Germany is depending on her U-boats to defeat the American menace and bring about peace, declares the Berlin Tagblatt, a copy of which has been received here. "The entire entente hopes," says this newspaper, "are now based on expected help from the United States. Whether the Americans will be able to provide a fighting army in numbers sufficient to bring about a decision, whether they will be able to furnish sufficient ships for the transport of the army and whether they will then be able to provide the necessary supplies of food and war materials are questions upon which opinion is divided. But there is no doubt the efforts the Americans are making must be taken seriously. The hope of an early peace depends almost entirely on the efficacy of our submarine weapons."

Reviewing the first year of Germany's ruthless submarine campaign which ended Feb. 1 the Tagblatt asserts that the central powers have succeeded in completely upsetting the economic life of the entente and adds that the submarine campaign, which has now become the principal factor in naval warfare, is being expanded and developed still further.

Summarizing the results of the underwater campaign since February 1, the Tagblatt claims that U-boats have sunk on an average of 821,000 tons of shipping monthly from February to December, and for the whole year the toll may be expected to show nearly 10,000,000 tons and that the building of new ships by the entente and neutrals during the year will replace only between 2,500,000 and 4,000,000 tons of the losses.

The newspaper says the monetary loss to Germany's enemies as the result of the year's work by the U-boats with reach $5,000,000,000, figuring the value of the ships at $250 per ton and their cargoes at the same amount.

SIGNAL CORPS SERVICE.

Explanation of What Enlisted Men May Be Called to Do.

Col. H. T. Johnson said that he is having many requests relative to the land service of those who enlist in the signal corps, and he thinks that the following would explain the matter to many who might be interested in enlisting:

It is believed that there are a large number of men within the draft age who are suitable for signal corps work, but who will delay applying for induction under section 150 of the selective service regulations for the reason that they are unaware that the trade or profession in which they are qualified could be used to advantage in the land division of the signal corps.

It is recommended that publicity be given to the fact that voluntary induction in the land division of the signal corps under section 150 of the selective service regulations is possible for men who are qualified along certain lines. All men inducted under this section are, unless otherwise requested by the chief signal officer of the army, sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

The land division of the signal corps is in need of men qualified for the following duties:

Chauffeurs, motorcycle drivers, and gas-engine repairmen for duty in field and telegraph battalions.
Telegraphers, both wire and radio.
Telephone men, including switchboard operators, telephone repairmen and men skilled in testing and repairing telephones in line.
Linemen, telegraph and telephone.
Photographers, still and moving.
Homing pigeon men.
Radio men who are familiar with installing radio apparatus.
Also men qualified as cooks, clerks, telegraphers, blacksmiths, meteorologists, cobblers, cable men, etc.

Raise More Bushels to the Acre

MORE bushels to each acre mean larger profits to the farmer. This is especially true with present high food prices.
